

Law 20: Review and Explanations of Calls

Review of the auction must restate all previous calls, including alerts.

Review of the auction must be made by an opponent but all other players must correct errors if any.

When asking for explanation, a payer is entitled to know about calls made, alternatives and inferences.

It is improper to ask a question solely for partner's benefit.

Player whose partner has given false explanation must inform opponents; declarer or dummy after the final pass, defender at the end of the play.
